

Connect on a new level.

Simply Communicating®

Business is about connecting — to customers, partners and employees.

Mitel® is bringing flexibility and choice to your business in ways you never imagined. For a limited time*, breathe new life into your connections with the Unified Communicator Server and five Unified Communicator Advanced licenses at 60 percent off the regular price.

Connect on a new level.

Simply Communicating

From September 24, 2009 to April 30, 2010 you can take advantage of an exciting new Mitel Series X Unified Communicator Advanced Offer that helps customers extend their reach without overextending their resources.

The Mitel Unified Communicator® (UC) Server and five Unified Communicator (UC) Advanced desktop licenses offers an ideal introduction for business customers looking to explore how employees can more easily find, connect to, and collaborate with the right people, wherever they are.

Perform at the speed of business

UC Advanced is Mitel's award-winning unified communications client that integrates presence and availability, secure instant messaging, audio conferencing as well as web and video collaboration with the call control capabilities of the business communications system.

UC Advanced also integrates with leading business productivity tools like Microsoft® Exchange / Outlook® and Office as well as IBM® Lotus Notes® and other Personal Information Management (PIM) applications.

Extraordinary mobility and desktop control

With the Mitel Teleworker Solution integration and UC Advanced Softphone, employees can easily and securely remain connected when working remotely at a customer site, at home, over a Wi-Fi network, or anywhere else they have Internet access.

The Dynamic Status feature of UC Advanced allows users to specify IM, Presence and Call routing treatment to suit their location and communications status.

UC Advanced integrates with Dynamic Extension allowing employees select up to eight different devices to act as their business phone, so many contact numbers can be collapsed into one – their business extension, with all of Mitel's rich in-call features available from any of the devices.

Work groups and project teams that need to collaborate over distance can benefit from the integration of the Mitel Audio & Web Conference (AWC) option. With AWC, any phone call can become an audio or web conference, scheduled or not, with the simple click of a key.

So much productivity at so little cost

UC Advanced is more than an impressive array of business features; it has the power to improve the timeliness and efficiency of business communications every single day, with:

Caller ID-Based Routing	Integration with Mitel Dynamic Extension
